Understanding Catholic Social Teaching and Voting

Catholic social teaching provides a moral framework guiding the faithful in making ethical decisions, including those related to voting. It encompasses principles such as the dignity of the human person, the common good, solidarity, and subsidiarity. These doctrines encourage voters to consider how policies and candidates uphold or challenge these values.

Principles of Catholic Social Teaching

The core principles of Catholic social teaching include:

- Dignity of the Human Person: Every human life is sacred from conception to natural death.
- Common Good: Policies should promote the welfare of all members of society, especially the vulnerable.
- Solidarity: There is a responsibility to stand with and support others, fostering unity and compassion.

- Subsidiarity: Decisions should be made at the most local level possible, empowering communities.

Applying these principles to voting means evaluating candidates and laws on how they protect life, promote justice, and safeguard religious freedom.

The Role of Conscience and Faith in Voting

Catholics are called to form their conscience in accordance with Church teachings and to vote in a way that reflects their faith commitments. This involves prayerful reflection, study of candidates' platforms, and understanding how political choices impact moral values. Voting is not merely a civic duty but a moral responsibility.
