The cult of the lamb missionary serves as the primary agent for spreading the cult's teachings and ideology throughout the game's world. This role is crucial in expanding the cult's influence beyond the initial settlement and reaching new areas inhabited by potential followers. Missionaries act as emissaries who carry out preaching, perform rituals, and engage with non-believers to convert them. Their effectiveness directly impacts the cult's growth rate and resource acquisition. Players must comprehend the responsibilities and limitations of missionaries to integrate them effectively into their overall cult management strategy.

Core Functions of a Missionary
