Residents who filed state taxes for prior years were automatically considered for payment, while others had to submit additional documentation.

Payment Amounts and Distribution

The payment amounts varied, with most individuals receiving between $600 and $1,200 depending on eligibility criteria. Additional funds were allocated for dependents in many cases. Payments were distributed via direct deposit for those with banking information on file or by mailed check for others. Loan Assistance and Forgiveness

In addition to grants, loan assistance programs offered low-interest or forgivable loans to small business owners.
