Overview of the PRC Physician Licensure Exam

The PRC Physician Licensure Exam is a crucial professional examination administered by the Professional Regulation Commission in the Philippines. It serves as the final step for medical graduates to become licensed physicians authorized to practice medicine legally. The exam tests candidates on various medical disciplines, including internal medicine, surgery, pediatrics, obstetrics and gynecology, and legal and ethical aspects of the medical profession. Successfully passing this exam is mandatory for registration with the PRC and issuance of the professional license.

Exam Structure and Coverage

The physician licensure exam typically spans several days and covers both written and practical assessments. The written portion includes multiple-choice questions designed to evaluate the candidate's knowledge and clinical skills. Subjects tested include:

- Internal Medicine
- Surgery
- Pediatrics
- Obstetrics and Gynecology
- Legal Medicine and Ethics

Each section is carefully constructed to ensure comprehensive evaluation of the candidate's readiness to practice medicine responsibly and competently.
