The document was originally published as a series of articles in Ford's newspaper, The Dearborn Independent, between 1920 and 1922. These articles were later compiled into a booklet known as "The International Jew," which propagated antisemitic conspiracy theories and stereotypes regarding Jewish people. Understanding the historical context in which the international jew pdf emerged is crucial, as it reflects the social and political tensions of that era. The document drew heavily from earlier antisemitic texts and was influenced by prevalent prejudices and nationalist sentiments in the United States and Europe.
